

December 2025 LILUG Meeting

---

December 9th, 2025 @ Digital Ballpark Pace-notes by Chris Trimble

2025 LILUG Election Results

- President: Matthew Newhall
- Vice President: John Pane
- Secretary: Chris Trimble
- Treasurer: Lee Wilbur

Main Discussion: Linux/OSS Phones by John Pane

- Linux Phones

PinePhone

- Cheaper
- Lower Specs
- Manjaro (as well as other Linux)

Librem 5

- Higher Price
- Option to make it in America for twice the price
- PureOS (Debian Based)

Operating Systems

- Ubuntu Touch
- Mobian (Debian based)
- postmarketOS (Alpine based)
- PureOS (Purism Librem, Debian based)
- Manjaro (Arch linux based)

Other Android/Minimal Phones

- Several options are available for either flip/minimalist phones, with varying levels of open-source.
- All of the phones on our list support Internet tethering
- Spreadsheet Link

Alternative Connectivity Phones

- Blackview Satellite Phone
- Spec5 LoRa Phone

Open-Source Android

- Several forks of Google's Android exist which aim to extend software support, remove Google dependencies, or increase privacy
- Comparison of Open-Source Android Forks

/e/OS

- /e/OS is an open source fork of LineageOS, another distribution of Android.
- Removed Google services, replaces them with a minimal installer of just the minimum Google services called MicroG
- Can be sold on a phone by vendors like Murena or installed on the phone

GrapheneOS

- Enhanced privacy options
- Possible partnership with OEMs for future support/phones being shipped Android Authority article

Not-CellPhones

Clockwork Pi Mini Terminal Device Circuit Mess Digital Toys T-Deck

Take-Away

There are many ways to connect to the others with a device that can fit in your pocket. Look at different vendors and solutions, and consider software on a system you currently own. If you need a new device, or perhaps a gift for the holiday season however, hopefully this month's notes are a good place to start.